

Lauren Ladd, PharmD

Dr. Lauren Ladd, PharmD, is a Clinical Assistant Professor of Pharmacy Practice at South College School of Pharmacy and maintains a practice and experiential site in an ambulatory care outpatient cardiology clinic at Blount Heart Consultants located within Blount Memorial Hospital in Maryville, TN. She received her Bachelor of Science in Food Science at the University of Tennessee prior to completing her Doctor of Pharmacy degree from the University of Tennessee Health Science Center. She went on to complete a PGY-1 Pharmacy Practice Residency with Bernard J. Dunn Collaborative Ambulatory Care Clinics in Winchester, Virginia. Following residency, Dr. Ladd took her current position where she has established pharmacy services in an outpatient cardiology clinic and serves as a full-time faculty member. Dr. Ladd's clinical responsibilities include comprehensive disease state management, assisting with transitions of care, and patient education. Dr. Ladd teaches in several courses and directs the Introduction to Pharmacy in the Healthcare System course for first year students. Dr. Ladd serves as the Rho Chi Chapter Advisor for the Epsilon Eta Chapter at South College School of Pharmacy. She is a member of AACP, ASHP, and the Tennessee Pharmacist's Association. She currently serves as the AACP Continuing Professional Development Awards Committee Chair and is a committee member of the AACP Strategic Planning and AACP Pharmacy Practice Section Awards Committee.